THE HI-WAY

of 1956

Dedication . . .

Once in a generation, a man becomes a priest, who by his Christian example and administrative ability, arouses the respect and admiration of all those about him. Here at St. Joseph's High School, we have such a man. He has worked tirelessly for whatever he believed best for the school. No task, once he learns it needs doing, is left unaccomplished for long. Anything and everything from balancing the budget to trimming the bushes comes under his care. Overtime is the rule—not the exception—for this laborer in the vineyards of the Lord. For these and other less easily expressed reasons, we dedicate this book to Father Michael Vichuras.

The "Inside Story" of our Senior Class

Beginning our high school career, we were enrolled at Central Catholic—via the Marien Schule, at South Bend Catholic, or St. Joseph's Academy; three old but small high schools. We emerged with the traditional freshman greenness, looking forward to four years of fun, parties, football and basketball games, dances, exams, and the routine of regular studies. High school classes, new teachers, meeting new students from other parishes, may have frightened us; but our parents told us that we would soon get used to it. And so we did. At the end of our freshman year, we loved high school and were anticipating the Catholic high school at the corner of Michigan and Angela.

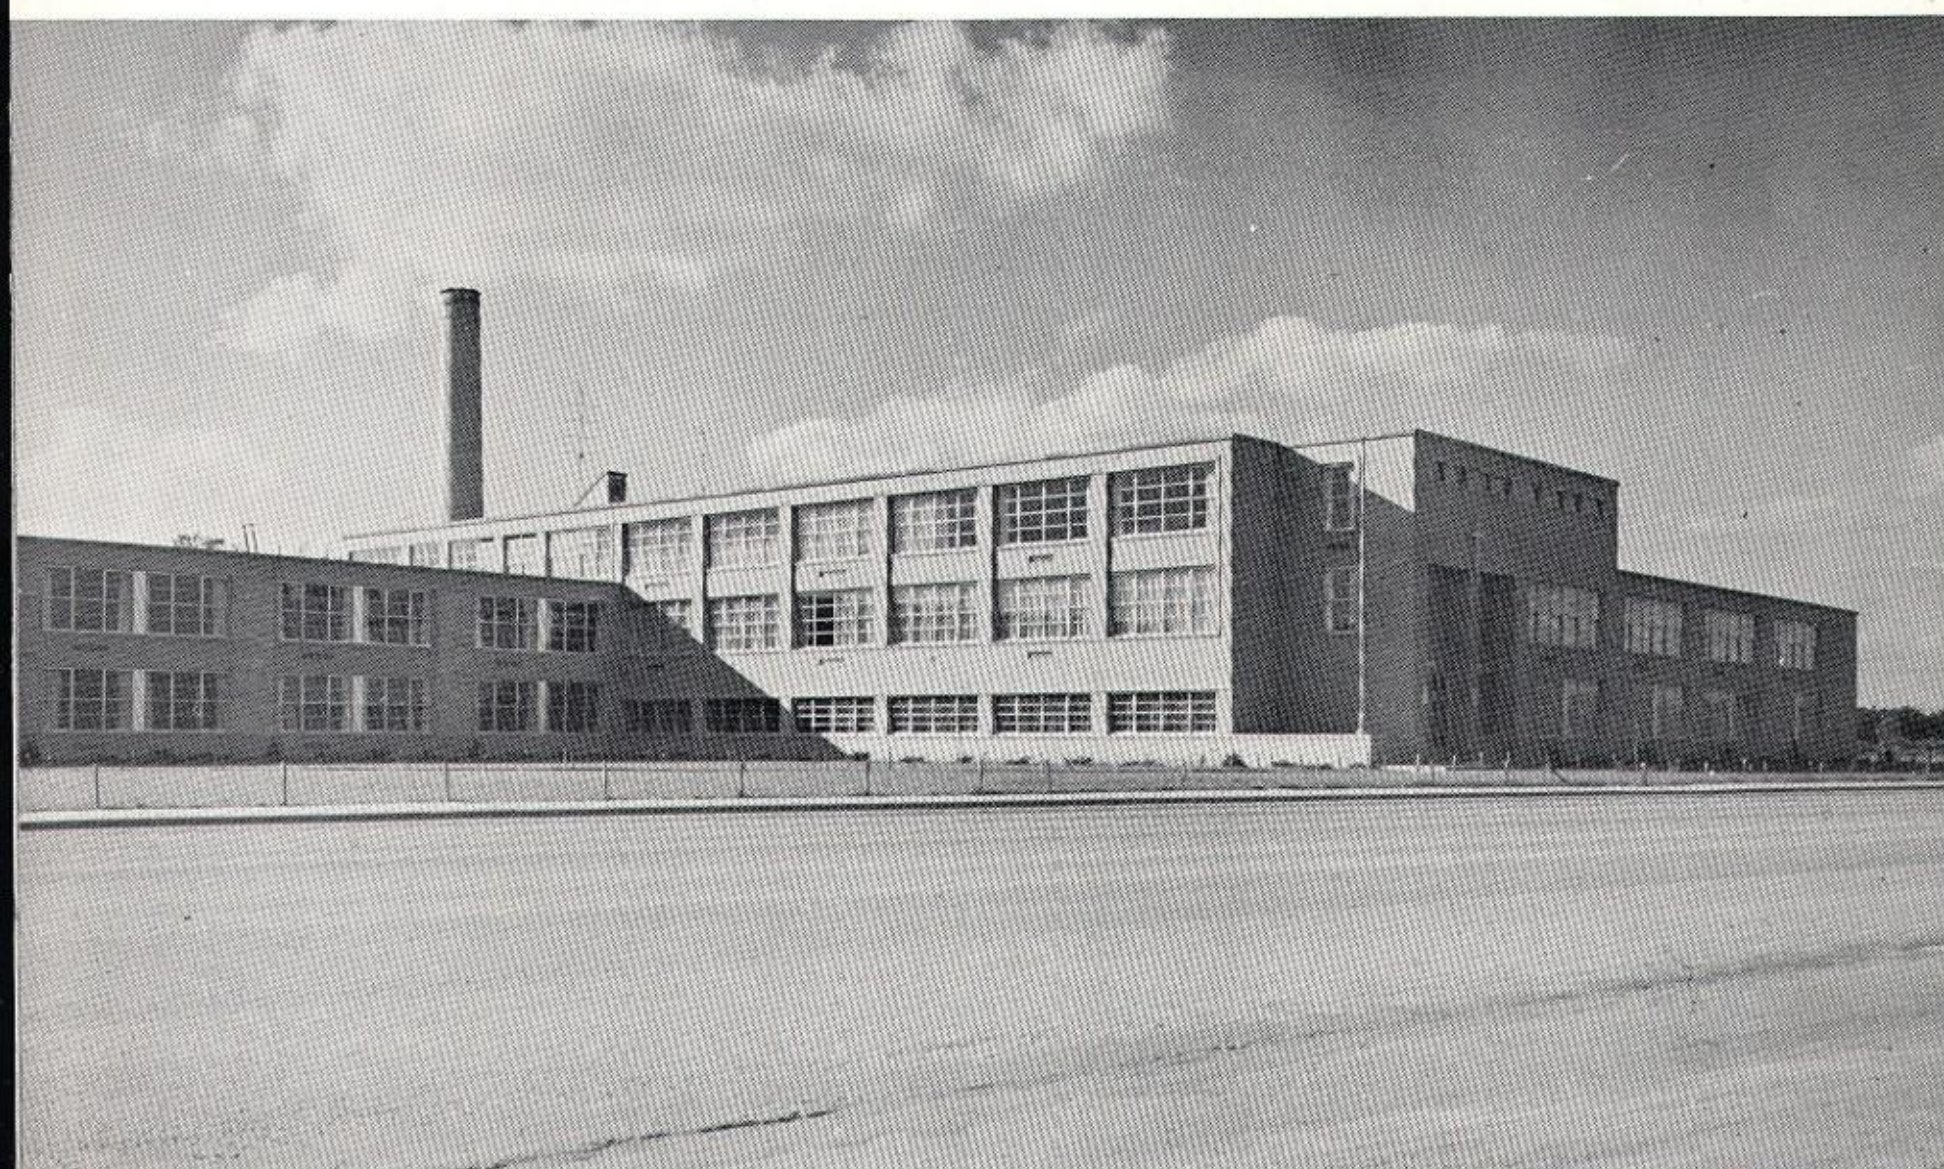

Four Years Later

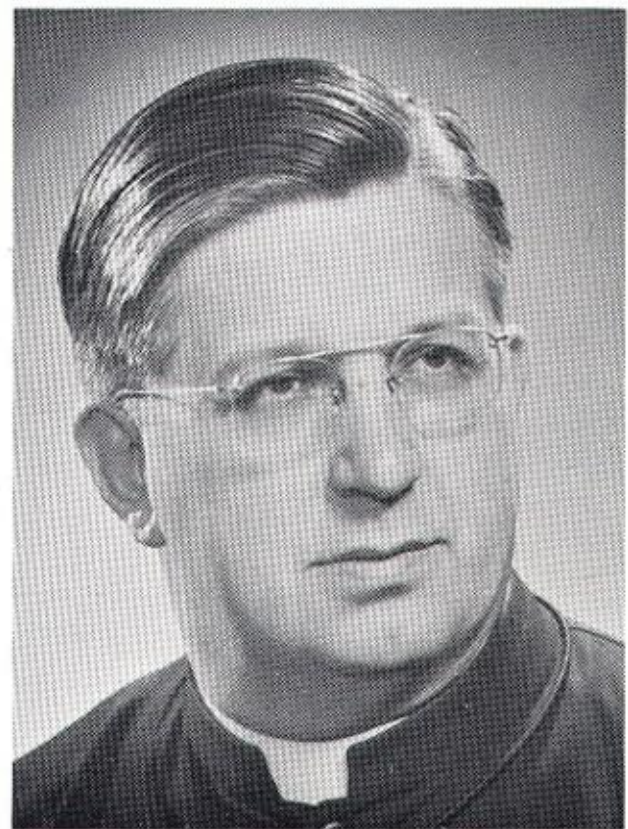

We are completing our high school life in a new, big, St. Joseph's Catholic High School. Leaving with the wisdom and experience of a high school career, we will treasure the studies, exams, dances, football and basketball games, parties, and fun of our four years. We have tried to grow in religion, character, and intelligence as the school has grown in spirit, statue, and students. Whether we were an Academy girl, South Bend Catholic student, or Shule boy; we will remember the part we played in the history and tradition of a new school. This will be the last tribute to those schools and the seniors who began their high school journeys there.

The School Administration

Reverend Michael Vichuras
Superintendent

Brother Reginald Justak, C.S.C.
Principal

Most aware of the inside story of St. Joseph's are the three administrators of the school by whom each internal development is carefully supervised.

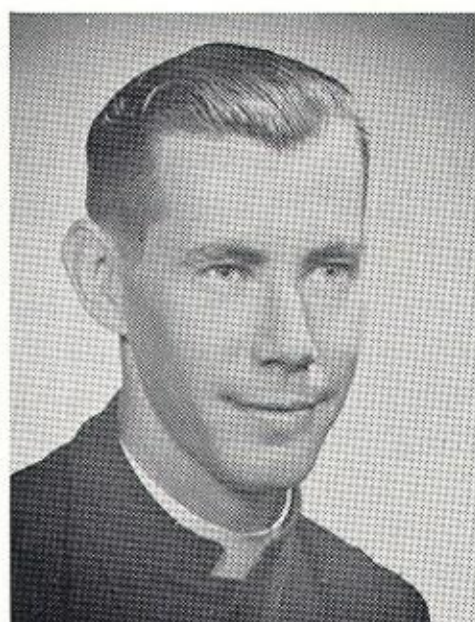

Intimately associated with the affairs, spiritual, social, and financial of both departments is our devoted superintendent, Father Vichuras; but from the first planning session of any activity to the final P. A. announcement, we are seldom without the watchful guidance of Brother Reginald or Sister Marie des Victoires.

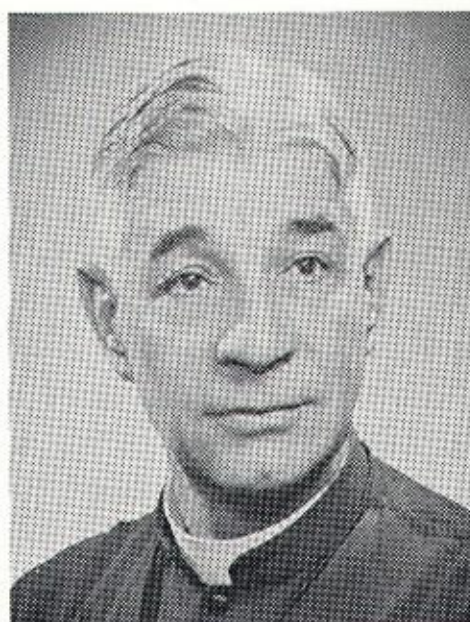

Sister Marie des Victoires, C.S.C.
Vice-Principal

The Faculty

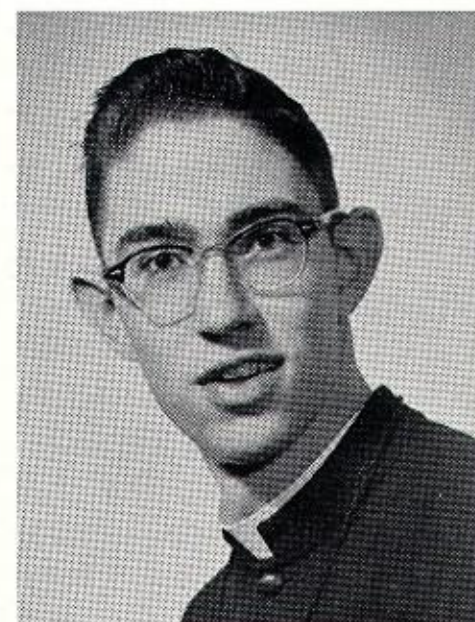

Christ, the Supreme Revelation of God to man, is the book of life for us to study for our natural and spiritual perfection. We find here the reason for our being students of St. Joseph's High School and for our teachers dedicating themselves to become other Christs and to give us intellectual and spiritual nourishment. Their efforts in our behalf and constant example manifest for us the path of Our Blessed Mother to complete love and perfect obedience. To these, our spiritual and intellectual leaders, we owe our loyalty and respect. As they have formed us in the knowledge of Christ, we must go forth and teach others by example and deed, so that we may have one nation dedicated to Mary, the Mother of God.

THE STUDENT BODY

The Senior Class of 1956

The inside story of our Senior class is one of having come a great distance on the "Hi-Way" to happiness, approaching a crossroad of momentous decision, a goal once thought unattainable. We were not overwhelmed with trepidation, rather, we were confident because we have come to know the responsibility of attaining discipline of intellect, knowledge of virtue, and the academic procedures that will profit us in later life.

Class Officers—Boys' Department

Class Officers - Girls' Department

Senior A

Now the class with freshmen memories of Central Catholic, Saint Joseph's Academy, and South Bend Catholic has come to the end of a scholastic sojourn in the melting pot of our modern Saint Joseph's High School. In the future years we, the 1956 Senior Class, will always recall the spirit that the words of our school song so fittingly impart . . .

The Junior Class

The inside story of our Junior class is one of the anxieties and anticipations of what the future will hold in store. St. Joseph's High saw wide-eyed Freshmen entering its doors three years ago, but since then, it has been and has become accustomed to an active group that is the potential graduating class of 1957. As the school increases in size and facilities, the Junior class increases in a spirit that reflects the pride and joy that this class has in our school.

The Sophomore Class

From their spirited take-off on Julius Caesar at the pep assembly, to their Robin Hood hats, the Sophomores have managed to maintain their individuality, while contributing to the unity of spirit in the school. Not quite upperclassmen, yet ignoring it; far above the Freshmen and proud of it; they have decided that they are the best class in the school, and by their actions, have tried to prove it.

Led by their class officers, they have maintained the high educational, moral, physical, and in particular, the social standards of St. Joseph's High School.

The Freshman Class

The Freshman Class has an "Inside Story" all of its own. Finding St. Joseph's already two years old and footworn by the many students who had preceded them, they did not let much time pass before starting to show a spirit of enthusiasm toward the development of the school program. The co-curricular activities of the classroom, the athletic contests, the mixers, the skating parties, the assemblies, and even the dramatic endeavors, were well represented by the class of '59. The future holds many surprises and wonders, and in all probability, it will take this Freshman Class to bring about the realization of the dreams that the pioneers of St. Joseph's have so long cherished.

'55 Grid Season

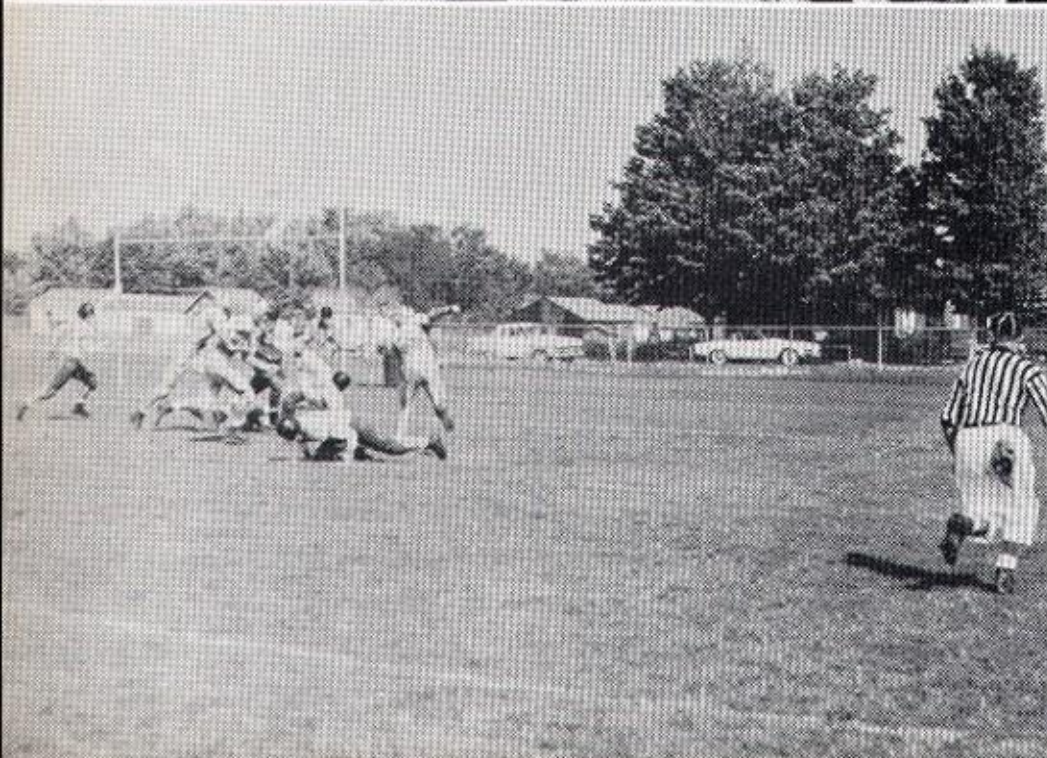

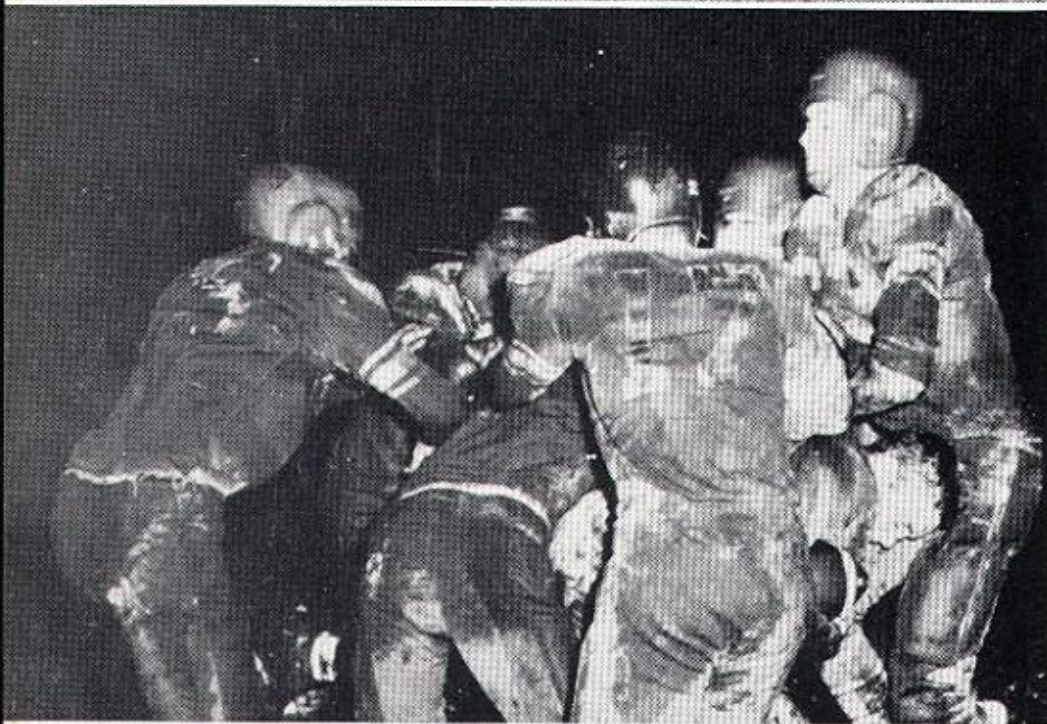

Although not a success in the won-lost column, the 1955 football season at St. Joseph's was very successful in that the Indians stepped into the realm of high-powered football. Coach George Kelly and Assistant Coach Angelo Turco developed their material with an eye for the future; making possible some of the brighter moments in this school's history.

The season opener against Washington was rather a shock to the Indians as the Panthers sloshed to a 41-0 victory over the inexperienced Indians. However, this loss was taken in stride as the Indians came back to administer a 25-6 shellacking to the Washington Clay "Colonials" at the dedication of Clay's new field. Chuck Sweeney, Hank Tschida, and Bob Ganser led the way with touchdowns and Jake Szarwark collected the lone extra point.

In the third game, Fort Wayne Central Catholic fell before the determined St. Joseph's squad, 13-7. By this victory over the City Champions of Fort Wayne, the Indians at last reached the big time. John Gamble's two touchdowns in this game put him in the public eye, and probably went a long way toward his placement on the first-string All City Team.

An upset-minded St. Joseph's eleven outplayed John Adams in the first half of that game. Fumbles, fumbles, and more fumbles thoroughly ruined the Indians' chance for an upset. The score was tied 6 to 6 at halftime thanks to Fritz Fischer's T.D. All the missed scoring opportunities came into the spotlight in the second half as three long shots gave Adams the game, 27-6.

Gary Portage got the axe next. Bill Becker made the only St. Joseph touchdown and Dick Was' extra point was the difference as the Indians won 7 to 6 in a terrific defensive ball game.

The next game was played at Joliet in weather so cold that the mustard froze on the hot dogs. Joliet Catholic sneaked over one dinky touchdown and that was the game. The 7-0 loss was a great disappointment to the aggressive St. Joseph's team.

The Indians took their grievances to Rochester, where they rolled over the local boys 25-7. The lone Rochester score came in the final moments due to an accidental block by the referee. Captain Church Sweeney, Hank Tschida, Mike Eger, and Kevin Weinberg all contributed T.D.'s, and big Jake Szarwark celebrated his first action since the Adams game with a point after touchdown.

The next game was one of those unfortunate affairs, which are bound to come up when a team toughens up its schedule. Bishop Noll High School showed no mercy and capitalized on every St. Joseph's error. Final score 29-0.

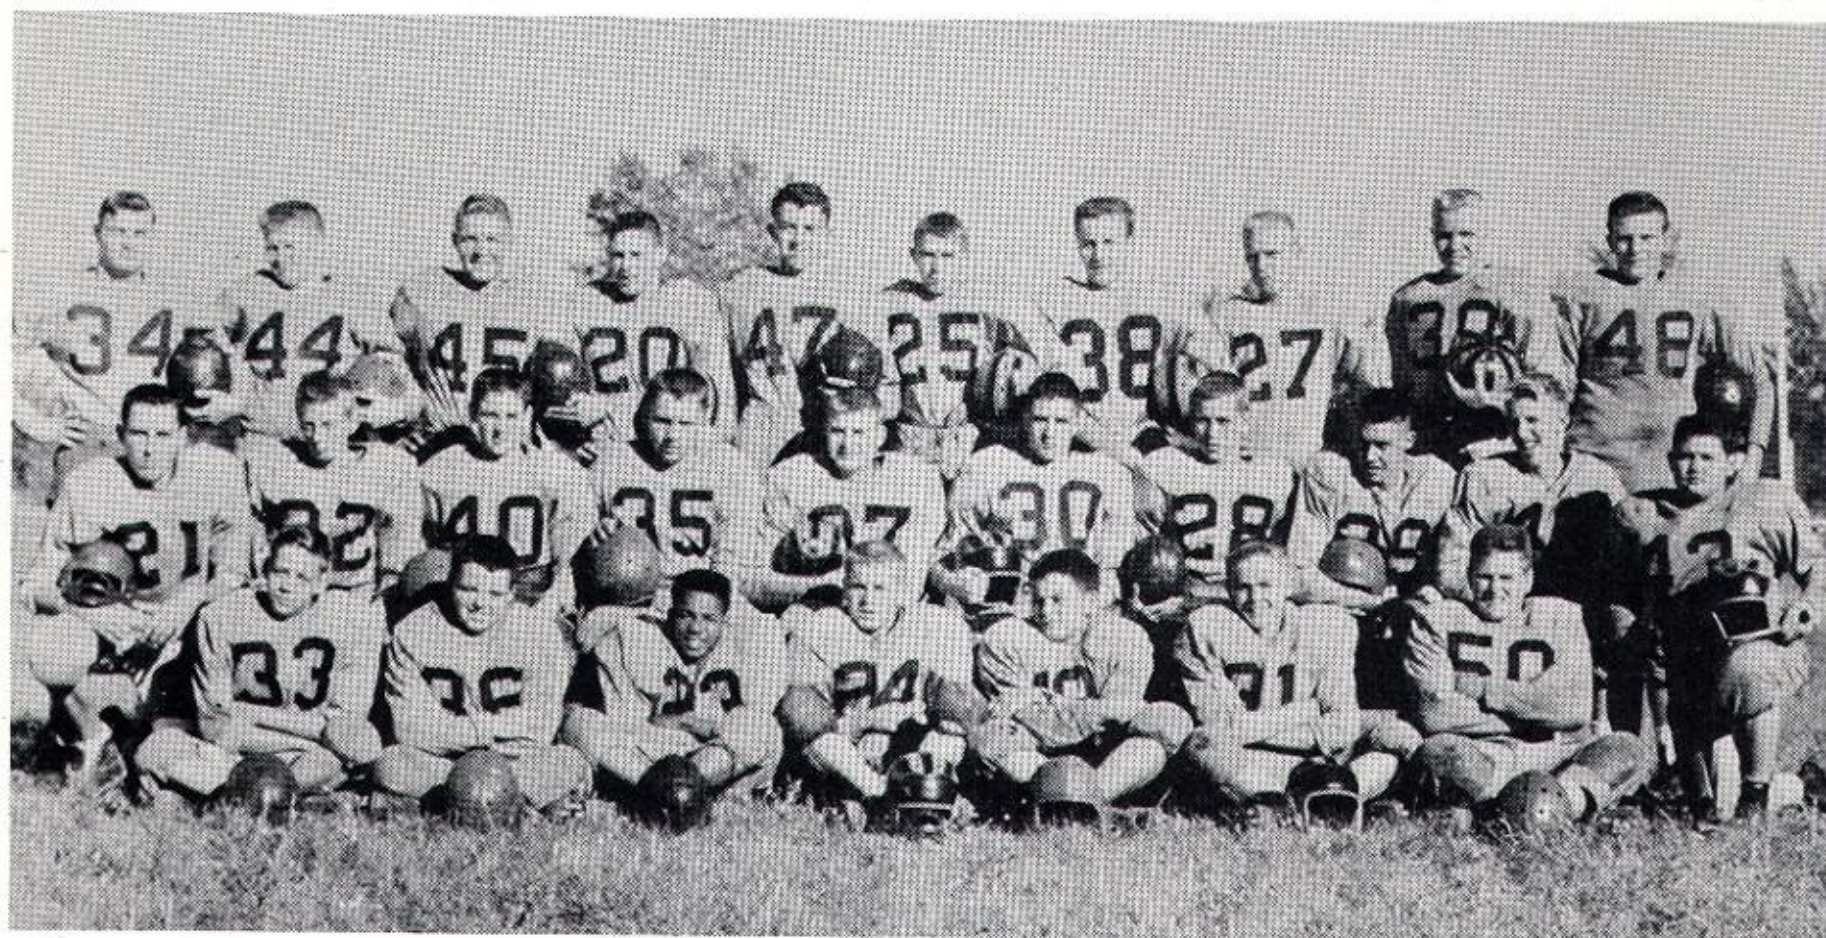

Some people never will understand the next score. The Culver Cadets showed the Indians that every team has its day to the tune of a 12-6 lesson in the will to win. Weinberg's TD kept the game from being a complete loss. The team ended with a 4 and 5 record.

THE 1955-'56 VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM

The third season for the St. Joseph's Indians proved to be one of trial by fire. With the biggest schedule that has yet been placed on the Indians, the season which yielded eight wins and twelve losses is considered a record that can be accounted for with pride. Some of the games were very close, but then there were the off-nights too. Yet, all of the games were played with the determination to win and to bring home as many victories as were possible. Our hats are off to the coaching staff and the team which saw us through a season of twenty hard fought contests.

The 1955 Varsity Tennis team overcame awe-inspiring odds to win 9 straight matches, and take their place as the best tennis team in the state if not the finest. At the start of the season, when the call went out for players, those responding found out that no coach was available, but that the school was willing to sponsor the team if it would run itself. The team members accepted the challenge and under the leadership of Jim Langford, captain, and Anthony Farrell, business manager, and proceeded to extend the previous year's winning streak to 17 straight games; a phenomenal achievement. The netmen won their first match against Niles, 5-2. Goshen fell next 7-2; Mishawaka 8-0; and Niles again 8-1. Then the Indians came to the big test—Culver. The Indians took five out of the six doubles matches, and decided to give their subs a chance, so the final score was 6-3. This marked Culver's first defeat in over three years. After that the Indians coasted to wins over Riley, 6-0; Goshen 5-2; Mishawaka, 4-0; and Riley 8-1. Jerry Crowley, Karl Dietsch, Charles Dietsch, and John Kromkowski went through the entire season without losing a match. Minor awards were given for the first time in tennis. Letter winners were Jerry Crowley, Charles Dietsch, Karl Dietsch, Marvin Dietsch, Leo Jaroszewski, John Kromkowski, Jim Langford, Henry Moore, and Andy Mollison.

Intramural Basketball

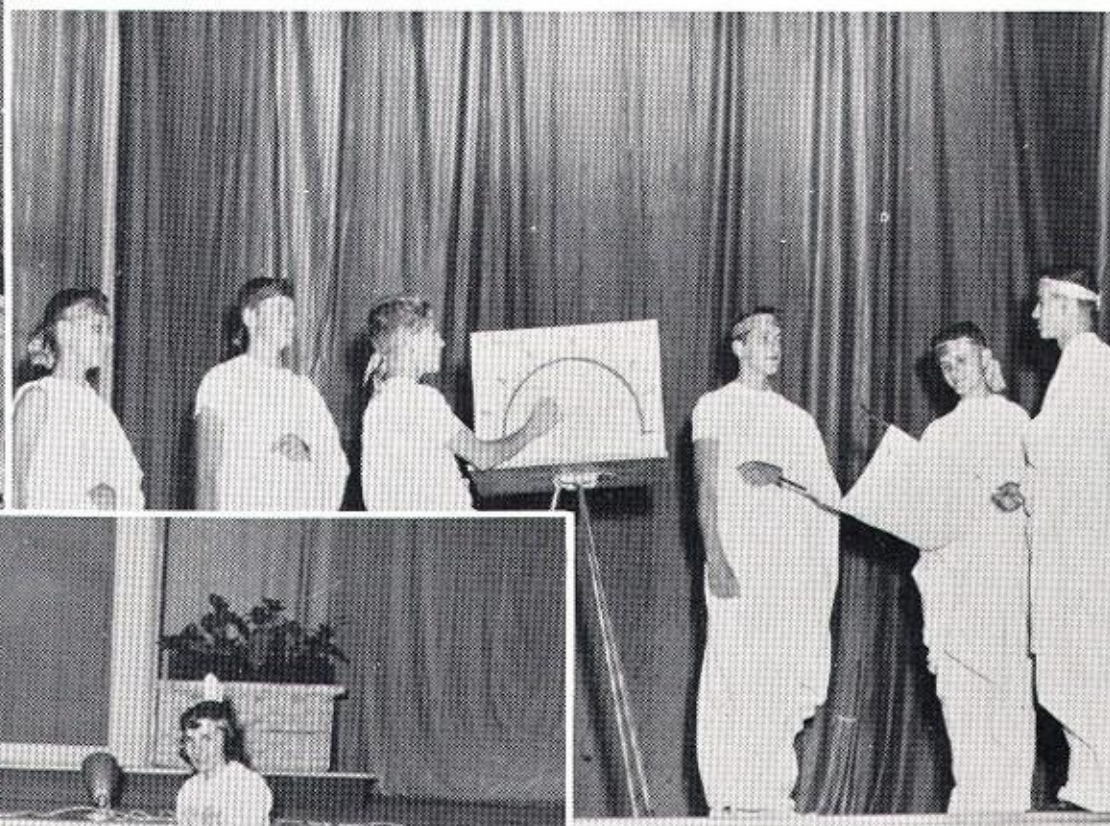

The "Intramural" program at St. Joseph's was extended to all Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen who signed up for the scheduled events. Brother Bernard Donohoe, C.S.C., was faculty moderator for the first semester, and Brother Eugene Palinski, C.S.C., for the second. Keen interest in the daily results could be readily seen from the looking up of the schedule, with the first toss-up, to the scrupulous checking of the statistics.

Girls' Athletic Association

The Girls' Athletic Association of St. Joseph's High School, otherwise known as the G.A.A., has had its third year at our school. The G.A.A. was organized the first year that the school started in 1953. Due to the lack of our own gym, then, all games were played at the St. Joseph's Grade School gym. By the middle of the second year, however, our own gym was ready and we gladly moved in. This last year the gym was used for the volleyball and basketball games. The main sports are volleyball, basketball, bowling, and some swimming, which was taken care of at the city natatorium.

THE STUDENTS IN ACTION

Every School has an "Inside Story"

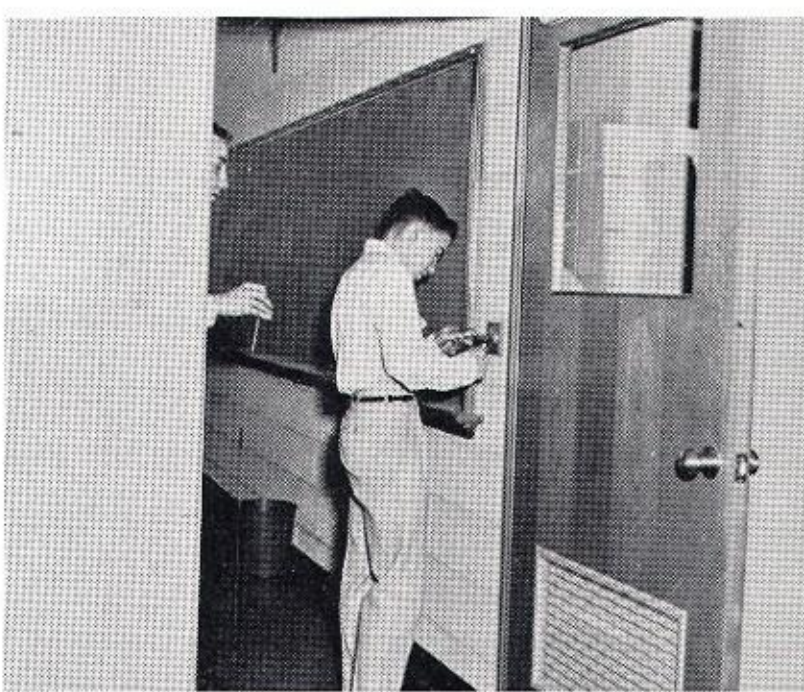

We all anxiously made our way from the buses to the portals of St. Joseph's High.

However, some of us stopped on our way in to discuss the all-important plans for the day.

The early risers were in the gym by 7:45 A.M. so as to see the favored intramural teams contest with each other.

Yet, the all-important pencil had to be sharpened before homeroom period began — Watch out, Klecka! Gerencher is behind you with a . . . !

However, Mrs. Slack calmly keeps the office in smooth operation so that the day might proceed in good order.

So the bell rings for the first class period, and we harnessed ourselves for the usual routine.

and St. Joseph's High is no exception.

Settling down to that first period of study was no problem at all.

In fact, these future business men of America didn't even look up when this picture was taken. (They did so afterwards.)

"A stitch in time saves nine." With this gem of wisdom as a sure guide for successful housekeeping, the sewing class busily stitches away.

The mechanical drawing crew, with Mr. Davis at the helm, seems to be planning that "yacht" that is in the future for all of us dreamers.

The library was the melting pot for all of those seeking to further their cause for more learning.

However, Sid Edholm seems to have found a more interesting method for learning.

There was 'round the clock action every day . . .

We'll get that 10:00 o'clock break in by hook or by crook. It's our only chance for survival.

It's the class projects that made for top interest in Brother Joseph's civics classes. Everyone had a chance to get into the act.

Ah! Lunch period and that twenty-five minute break. These are the early comers.

Most of us had to fight our way to the "Coke" machine. It's that extra penny that holds up the line.

However, here was a crew that solved the problem of service with a smile. Too bad, boys, the fountain isn't plugged in yet.

Then we headed back to our classes to find out that the lunch period was really necessary to keep our "tickers" going.

and it took all of us to tell the story.

So we gathered in the little theater for the monthly showing of "The News Magazine of the Screen."—"Turn out those lights so we can get started."

Not everyone gets a chance to read an original letter written by General Sherman of the Civil War, or see a display of his personal effects.

Preparations for the Freshmen play kept some of us after school for a couple of weeks. It was the make-up crew, more than anyone else, that had to miss those buses at 3:30.

There's nothing like being absorbed in a game of chess while waiting for the St. Mary's bus from Niles, Michigan.—"Okay, George, we dare you to make that move."

Mr. Clay packs his little clan into the Elkhart "Special" which makes it possible for those living in that fringe area to come to classes and attend all of the activities outside of school hours.

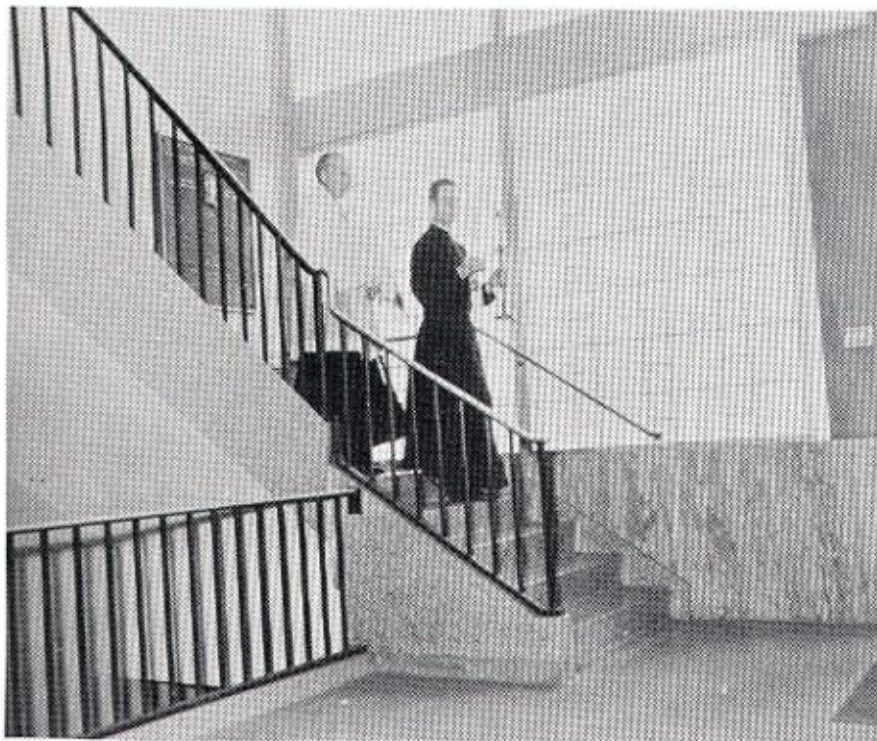

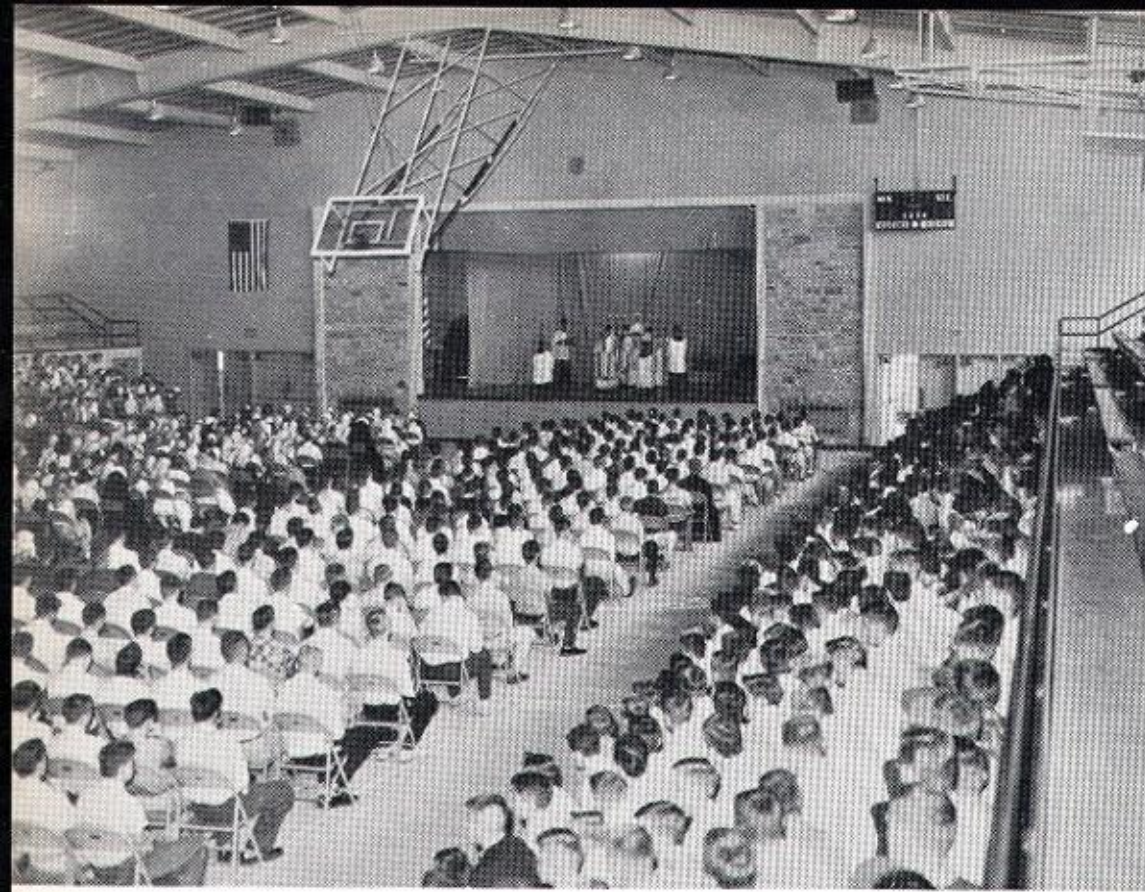

"Keep that line moving. We've been waiting all day for this moment."

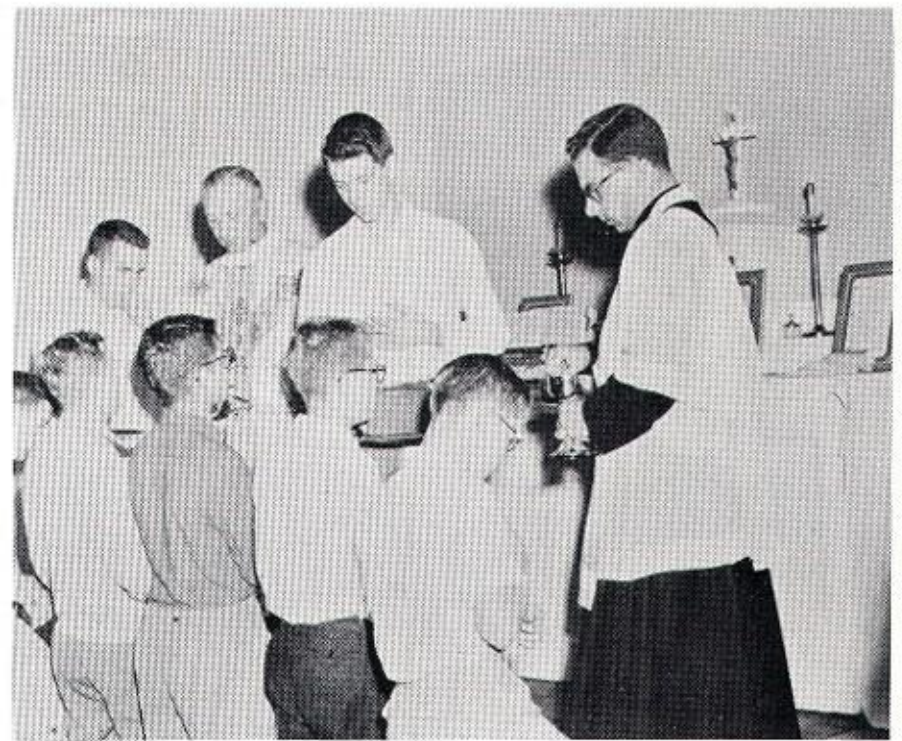

Religious Activities

The real inside story of St. Joseph's High School lies in the belief that the development of the soul is of the utmost importance in the training of the Catholic student. The religious activities of the year were conducted in close harmony with the liturgical observances of the Church, thus affording the students an opportunity of appreciating the spiritual values of their religion.

LEFT: A solemn High Mass, celebrated by Father Vichuras, officially opened the 1955-56 scholastic year.

A familiar scene around school was the carrying of the Blessed Sacrament to many of the liturgical functions celebrated in either the gym or the little theater.

Father LeVasseur, C.S.C. of Notre Dame assists Father Vichuras in distributing Holy Communion during the Freshmen observance of First Friday.

Mass was celebrated every morning in the little theater during the Lenten season.

Religious activities also extended to the realm of material assistance to the foreign missions conducted by the Priests, Brothers, and Sisters of Holy Cross.

Annual Retreat

The annual three day retreat was observed by the Freshman and Sophomore classes prior to the Christmas holidays, and the Junior and Senior classes on the first three days of Holy Week. The appointed times were indeed appropriate for the spiritual goals to which the annual retreat endeavors to attain. The success of the individual retreats was due to the inspiring conferences delivered by the respective retreat masters.

Jim Goff, Frank Glentzer, Bob Hechlinski, and Dan Farkas chat with Father Westendorf between conference periods.

Father Frederick Westendorf of Fort Wayne conducted the underclassman retreat.

Mass was celebrated for the underclassman retreat on the stage of the Little Theater.

Senior girls recite their rosary in common during the period of private devotions.

Father Philip Hanley, O.P., conducted the upperclassman retreat.

The Hi-Lite

The school paper, Hi-Lite, is a product of the Senior journalism class, supervised by Sister M. Louis Irene, C.S.C. The Hi-Lite, given to the students five times during the year, receives news of the boys through Brother Leonardo, C.S.C. of the boys' wing. During the first period, the staff may be seen working in the press room, up on the third floor, drawing up dummy sheets or starting the layout of the next issue.

Editing the first page and editor-in-chief is Suzanne Fox. Sue Abell supervises the editorial page, with Charlotte Gorski on the third page news, and Andy Mollison working on the sports section. Reporting the news is the job of Nancy Conley, Sheila Berzai, Elaine Riordan, George Bennington, Ken Reimer, and Art Wiggins. The Hi-Lite has given these students a small, but a precise knowledge of the journalistic world.

If you were to peer through the windows of room 303, you would have seen, behind stacks of pictures, loose leaf papers, copy sheets, and old yearbooks, the boys and girls of the Hi-Way staff, sorting and identifying photos, composing captions, typing forms and meeting deadlines in order to record for posterity the events and personalities of the year.

The most outstanding event of the year in which the Glee Club participated was the Eucharistic Hour. All of the music was provided by the Glee Club. Because of limited space, the whole Glee Club was not able to present a special Christmas dinner program for the Patrons Club, but was represented by four of the members. The Glee Club also gave a Sacred Concert during Passion Week and a Spring Concert in the school gymnasium. Assemblies Education at St. Joseph's High is not merely limited to the classroom. Many people have displayed their talents, and many others were interested enough in our school so as to extend to us their tokens of recognition.

It was a Year of Mixers, Dances, and Skating Parties

The same floor which looks so large when ringed by the crowd at a basketball game, shrinks remarkably when packed by the throngs of students at our dances and mixers.

We saw all of this first at the Senior dance when, despite a driving rain and an annoying fog, Eddy Knight played such numbers as "Autumn Leaves" and "Unchained Melody" to a floor teeming with dancers. The yearbook dance, closing the annual patron subscription drive, featured the Rythmaires. Nearly everyone there picked up a few steps from Joe Ganser's exhibitions. The School Swing Band rocked the Sophomore mixer with their "Rock Around the Clock," "Seventeen," and "When the Saints Go Marching In." The two Freshman mixers had big name singers on records with "Love is a Many Splendored Thing."

The big dance of the semester was the Annual Holiday Ball sponsored by the Senior class. From the special textured tickets and take home table decorations to the changing colored lights, the Ball was an extravagant and well planned affair.

The Junior class, which had earlier given a roller skating party, held the last big dance before Lent with Eddy Knight's band playing the current favorites, "Sixteen Tons," "Memories Are Made of This," and "Only You."

Joe Ganser could have shown Arthur Murray something new in dancing.

This close-up of the Freshman Mixer tells a story that needs no words to unfold.

The Hoky-Poky is the novelty that has everyone teaming on the floor.

The Rythm Airs provided the Yearbook Dance with all of the trimmings that Thanksgiving was to offer, in another way, the following day.

Playland Park Rendezvous

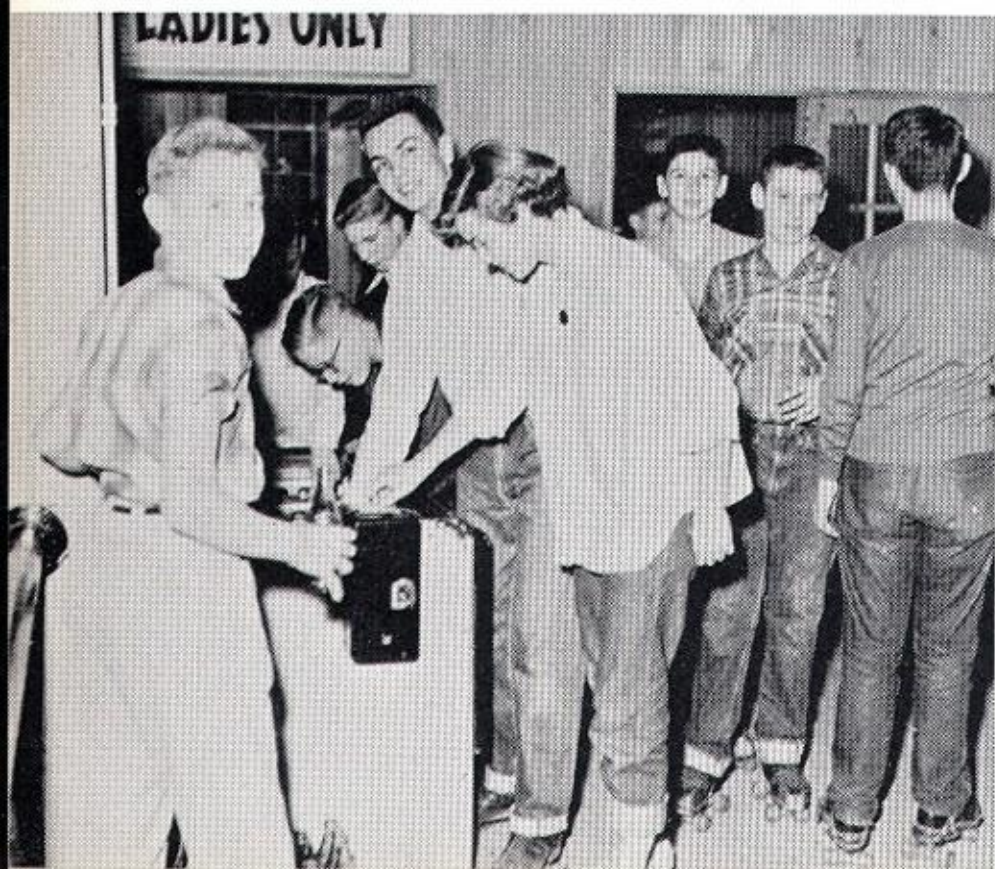

The planned skating parties of the different classes were always carried out at the Playland Park Roller-Rink. Whether sponsored by Freshmen or Seniors, the floor was always filled with enthusiastic skaters.

Tom Harvey maintains that this is the safest position while skating.

Vanderbosch needn't wait in line, Agostino is doing a mighty fine job.

The 1955 Senior Ball

Ed Thornton and JoAnn Balon add to the picture of a bright and gala affair.

While music played on, Ed Myers and Phyllis Coty paused before the Christmas tree in the lobby.

The 1955 Junior-Senior Prom

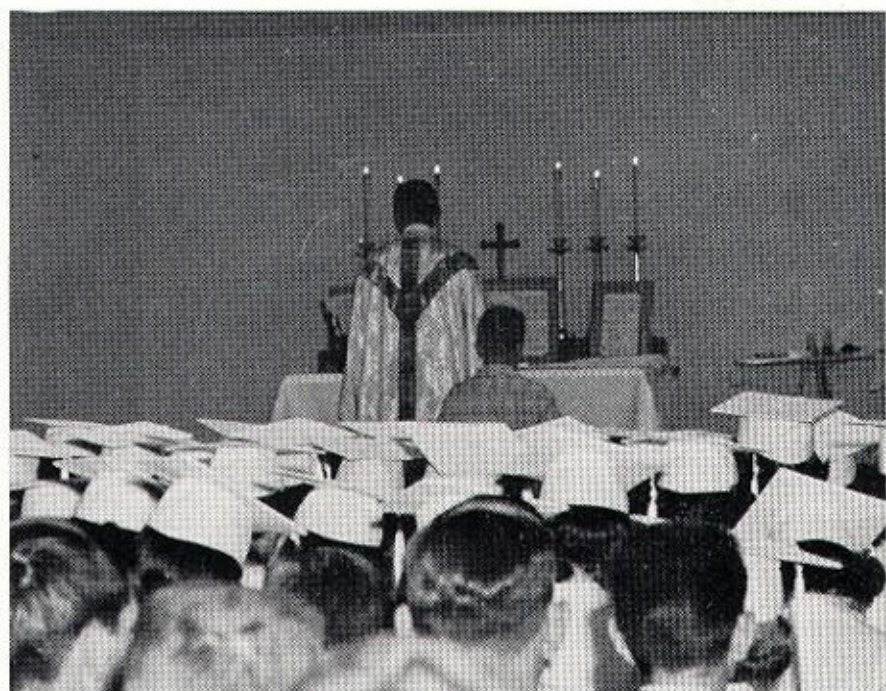

Chuck Sweeney crowns M. Hennessey as Queen of the Junior-Senior Prom. Don Buczynski reigned as King. Phyllis Coty was given the honor of placing a wreath of flowers at the foot of the statue of the Blessed Mother. Together, the Prom was a crowning success to the social events of 1954 and '55.

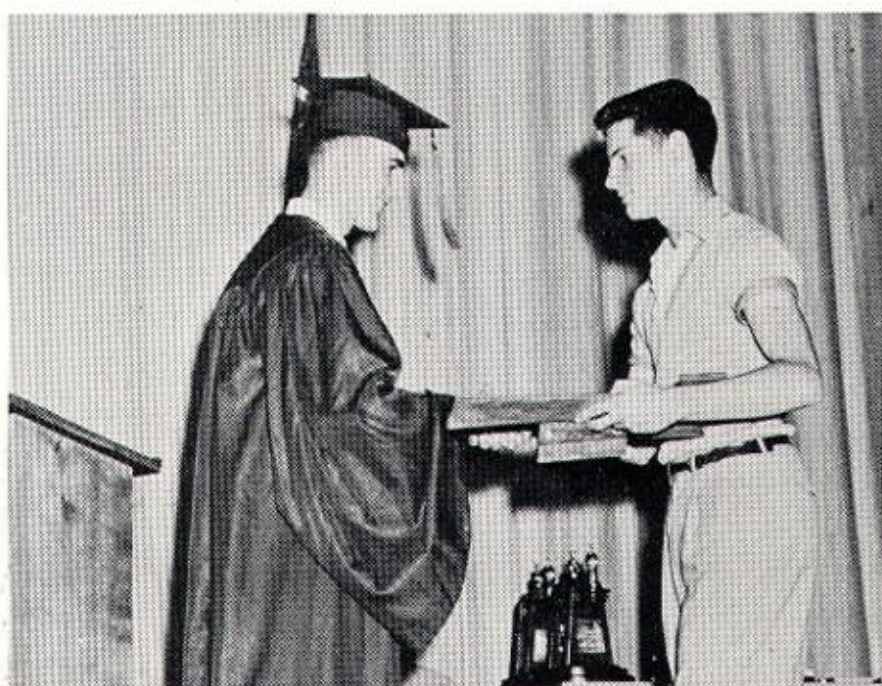

Senior Class Day

May 27th, 1955

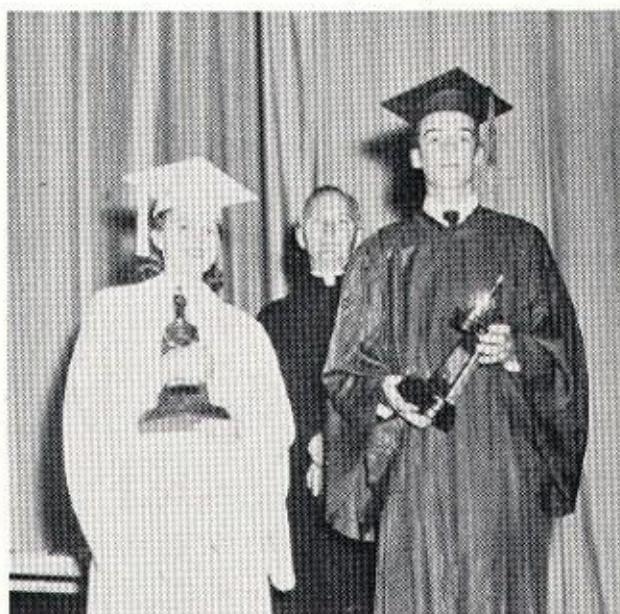

Senior Class Day started with Holy Mass celebrated by Father Vichuras in the little theater.

Senior President, John Horth, turns over the traditional "Toma-hawk" to Junior President, Chuck Sweeney, as part of the Senior Class Day program held in the gym the Friday before graduation, May 27th.

Theresa Nutting and Joseph Slade received awards for the highest scholastic records in the Senior Class.

Dorothy Petdke and Marvin Dietsch receive the second highest scholastic awards.

Theresa Nutting is awarded the coveted chemistry award.

Graduation Day

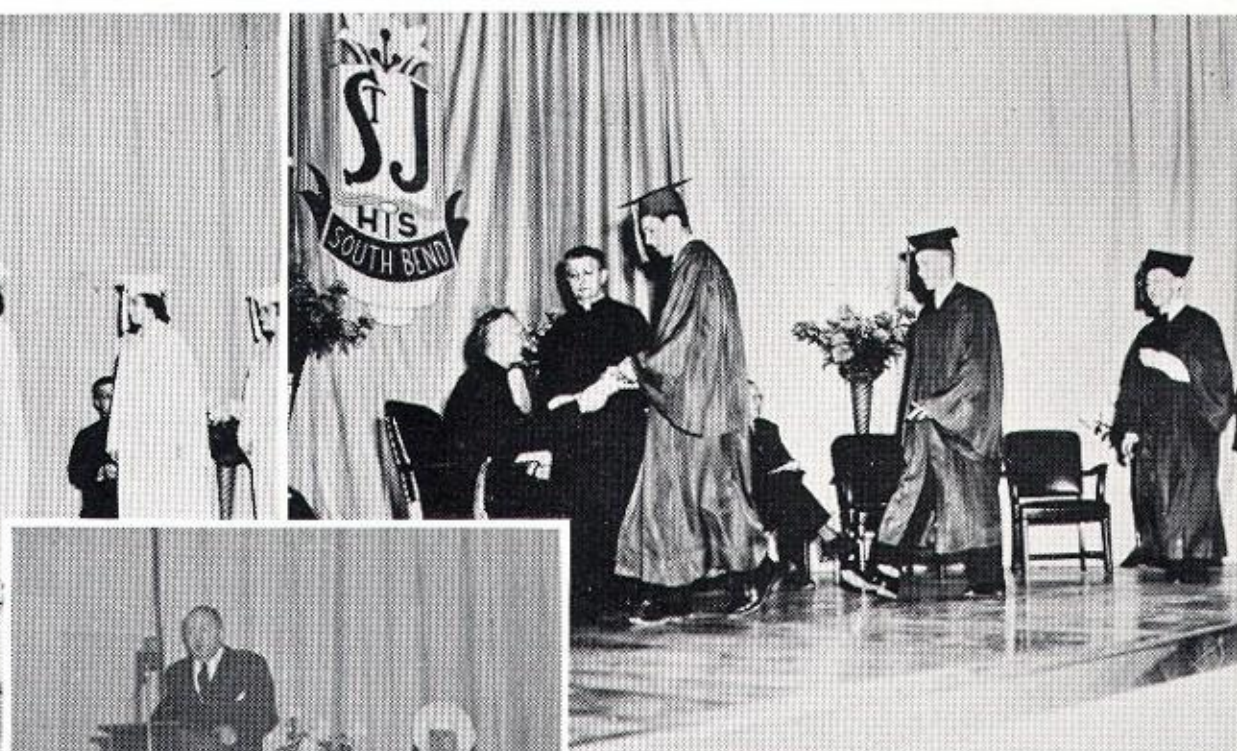

-1955-

The Senior Class of 1955 was the first to receive diplomas within the walls of St. Joseph's High on May 29th, 1955. From the time of the Baccalaureate Mass in the morning to the conferring of diplomas in the late afternoon, the Senior Class held each moment as one never to be forgotten.

ABOVE: You can't help thinking of this occasion as being one of the great moments in your life.

ABOVE: Gerard Van Overberghe receives his diploma from Father Vichuras who is assisted by Brother Reginald in the presentation of diplomas.

BELOW: An overall glimpse at the graduation exercises shows that there can be nothing but pride and joy in graduating from St. Joseph's High.

Patron's Club

1955 - '56 Officers

Parents attentively listen to Brother Joseph as he explains the objectives of his class. Each year, the parents are invited to follow the schedule of their children and become acquainted with the teachers.

Report cards are speeded to your doorway with the aid of volunteers from the Patrons' Club. Here we see (left to right): Mrs. C. Fagan, Mrs. John Straub, Mrs. Fred Bradley, and Mrs. Edward Stachon putting the final touches on the semester cards.

Cafeteria Staff and School Engineers

ABOVE: Mrs. Etta Zalas, Miss Mae Prawatt, and Mrs. Catherine Zalas capably handle the two lunch periods of the day.

LEFT: Jim and John Miller fired up the boilers early in the morning so that we didn't have to share the chill of those biting wintry days.

Conclusion . . .

The inside story of Saint Joseph's High is not merely the story of the development of the physical plant with its additions of shrubbery, stage equipment, kitchen fixtures, and other material advancements, but the story of the enthusiasm and hard work which made these things possible. However, an inside story would not be complete without the mentioning of the moments of anxiety during exams, the thrill of an athletic contest, the preparation for a social event, and the prayers which bind these activities together as tribute to our Christian education.

I hope that this edition of The Hi-Way will bring to you memories of your past year at Saint Joseph's. We have tried our very best to penetrate the outside walls and tell to you, pictorially, the inside story.

In later years, when you have established yourself in the world of business and society, you may page through this volume and recall the pleasant experiences of your long forgotten high school days. You may also remember how Saint Joseph's did its very best to get you started on the right foot. If these points have been clearly established, then and only then, has our endeavor to present this inside story been successfully accomplished.

If the Hi-Way for 1956 meets with your approval, our success is due in a great part to the splendid cooperation that we have received from all who were connected with it. Accordingly, The Hi-Way wishes to express its sincerest thanks to the following individuals . . . to Mr. Raymond Patnaude for his excellent and much appreciated photography.

. . . to Brother Harold Ruplinger, C.S.C., faculty advisor and part-time photographer, for his patience and unlimited day and night pursuance of duty.

. . . to Mr. Robert Albertson of the Josten Yearbook Company, for his advice and cooperation.

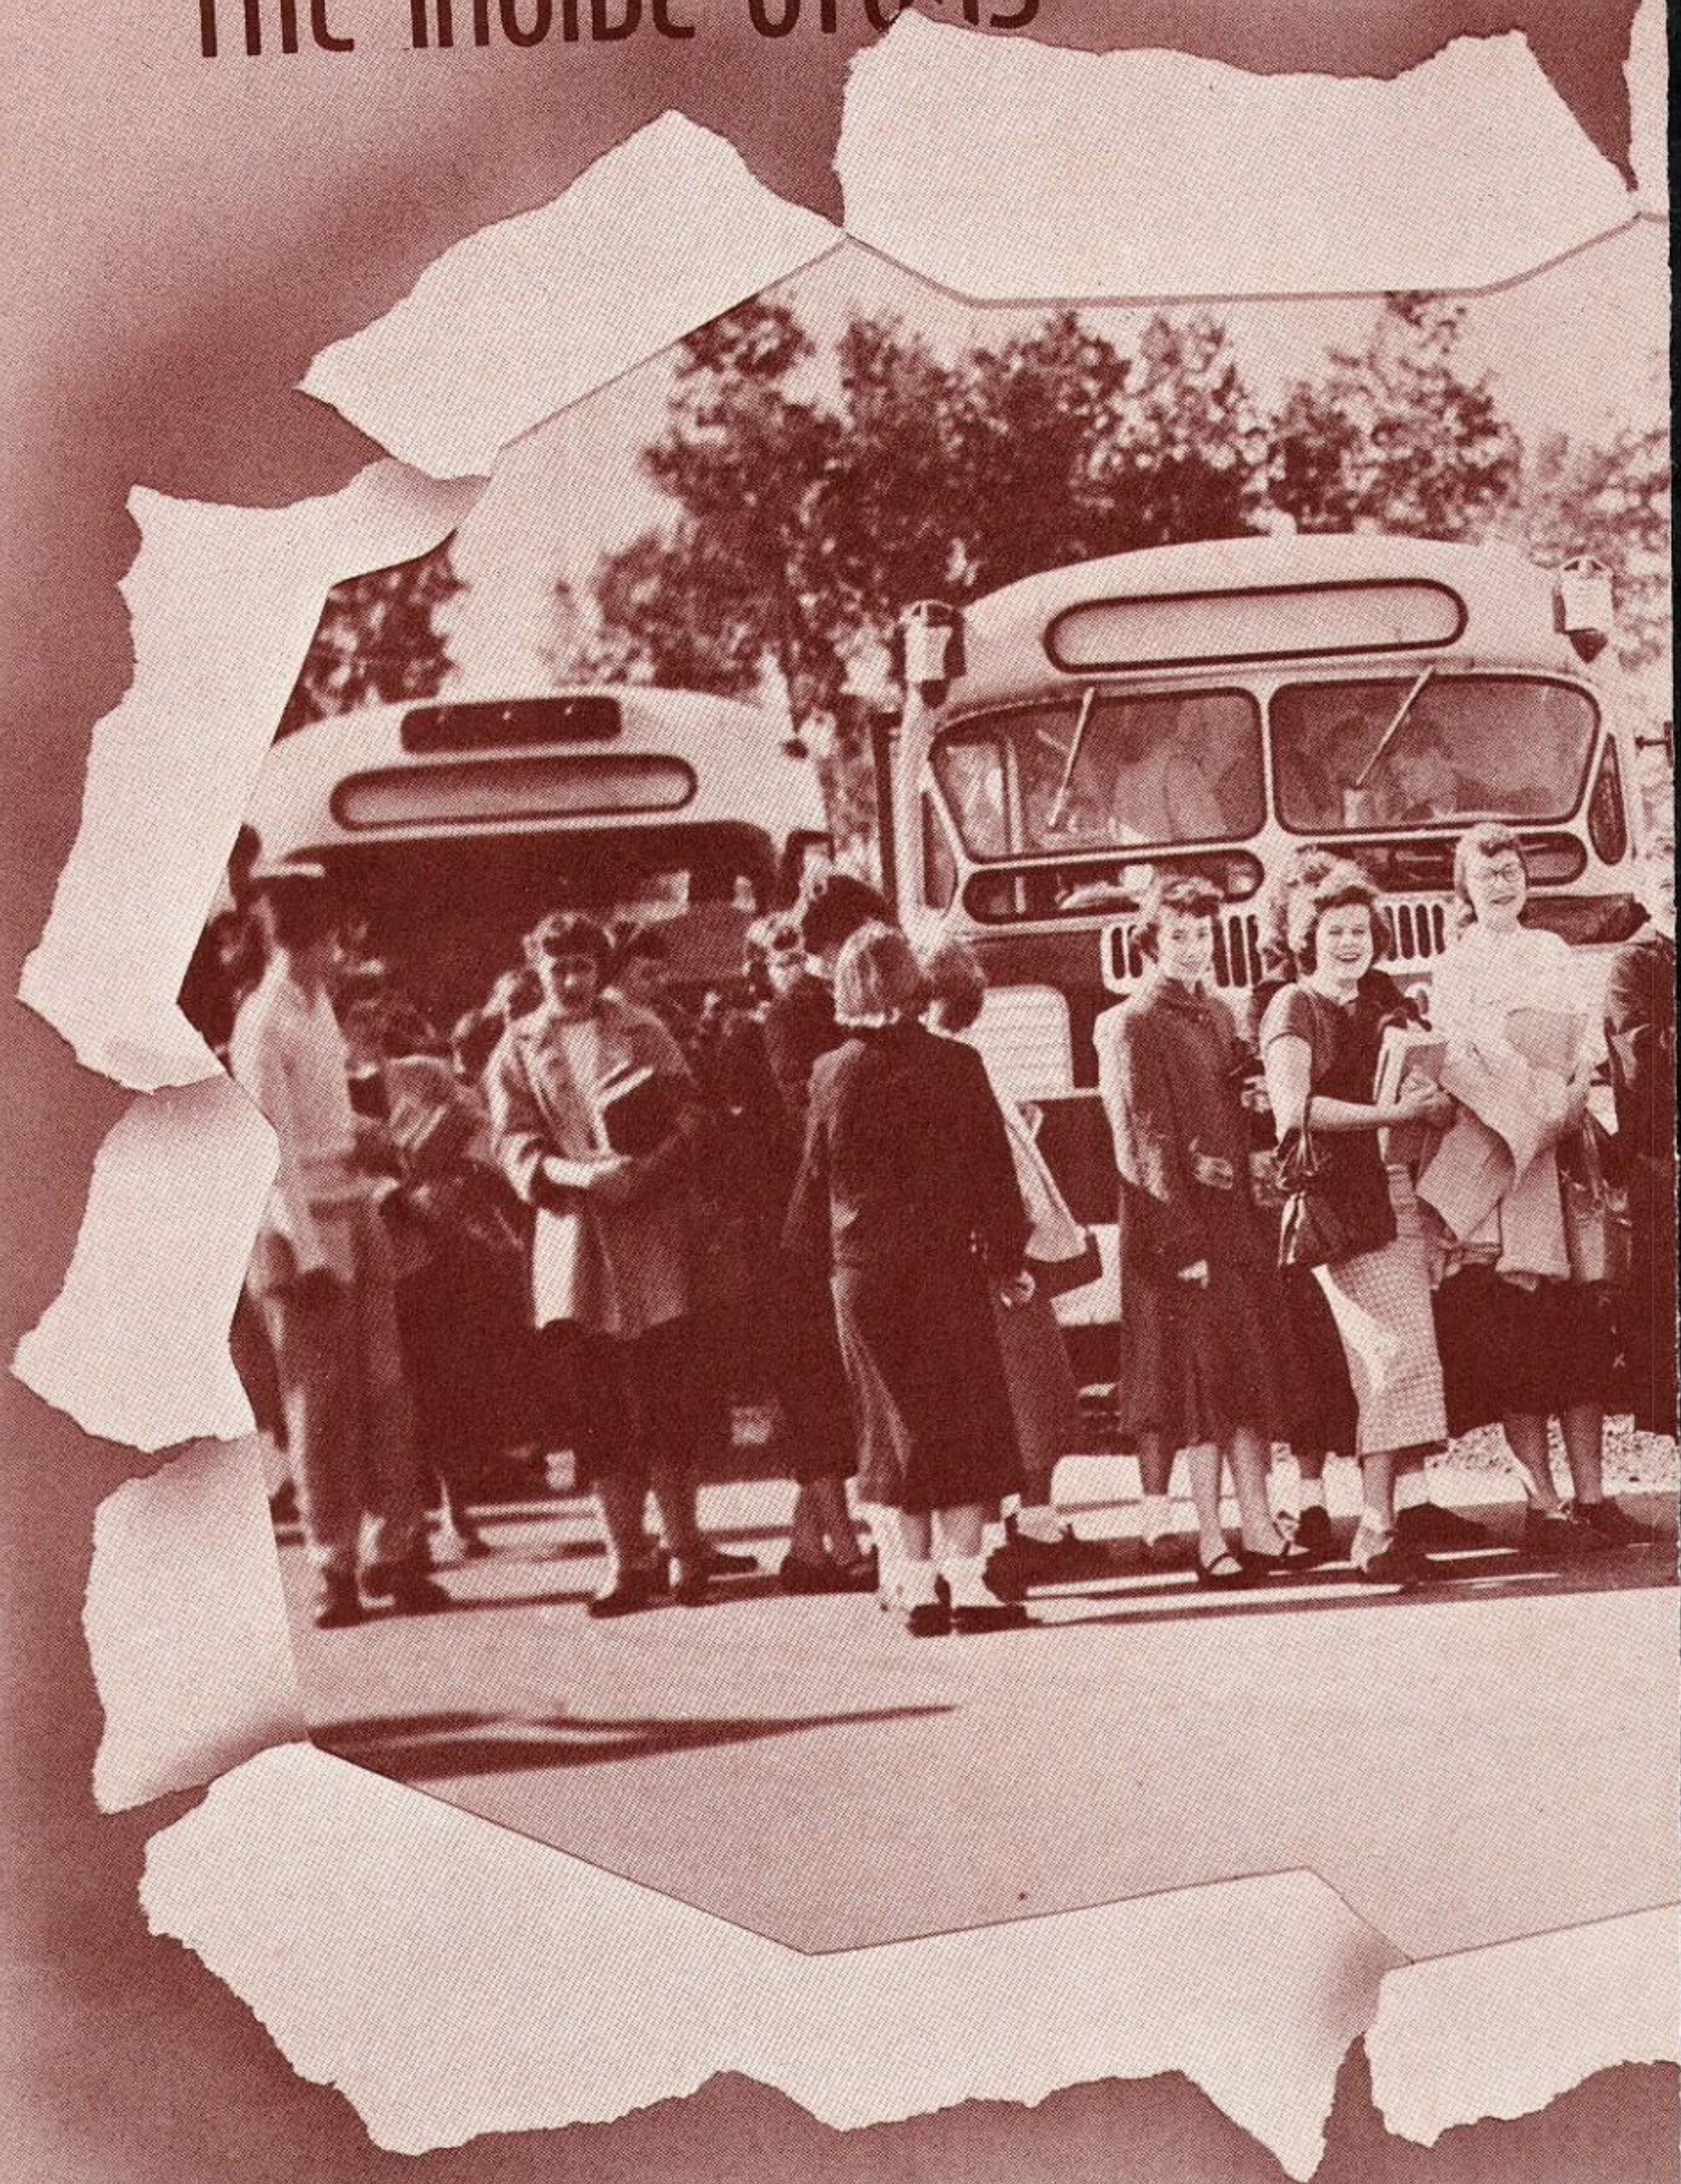

. . . to all the members of the energetic staff who willingly donated their unlimited time and efforts.

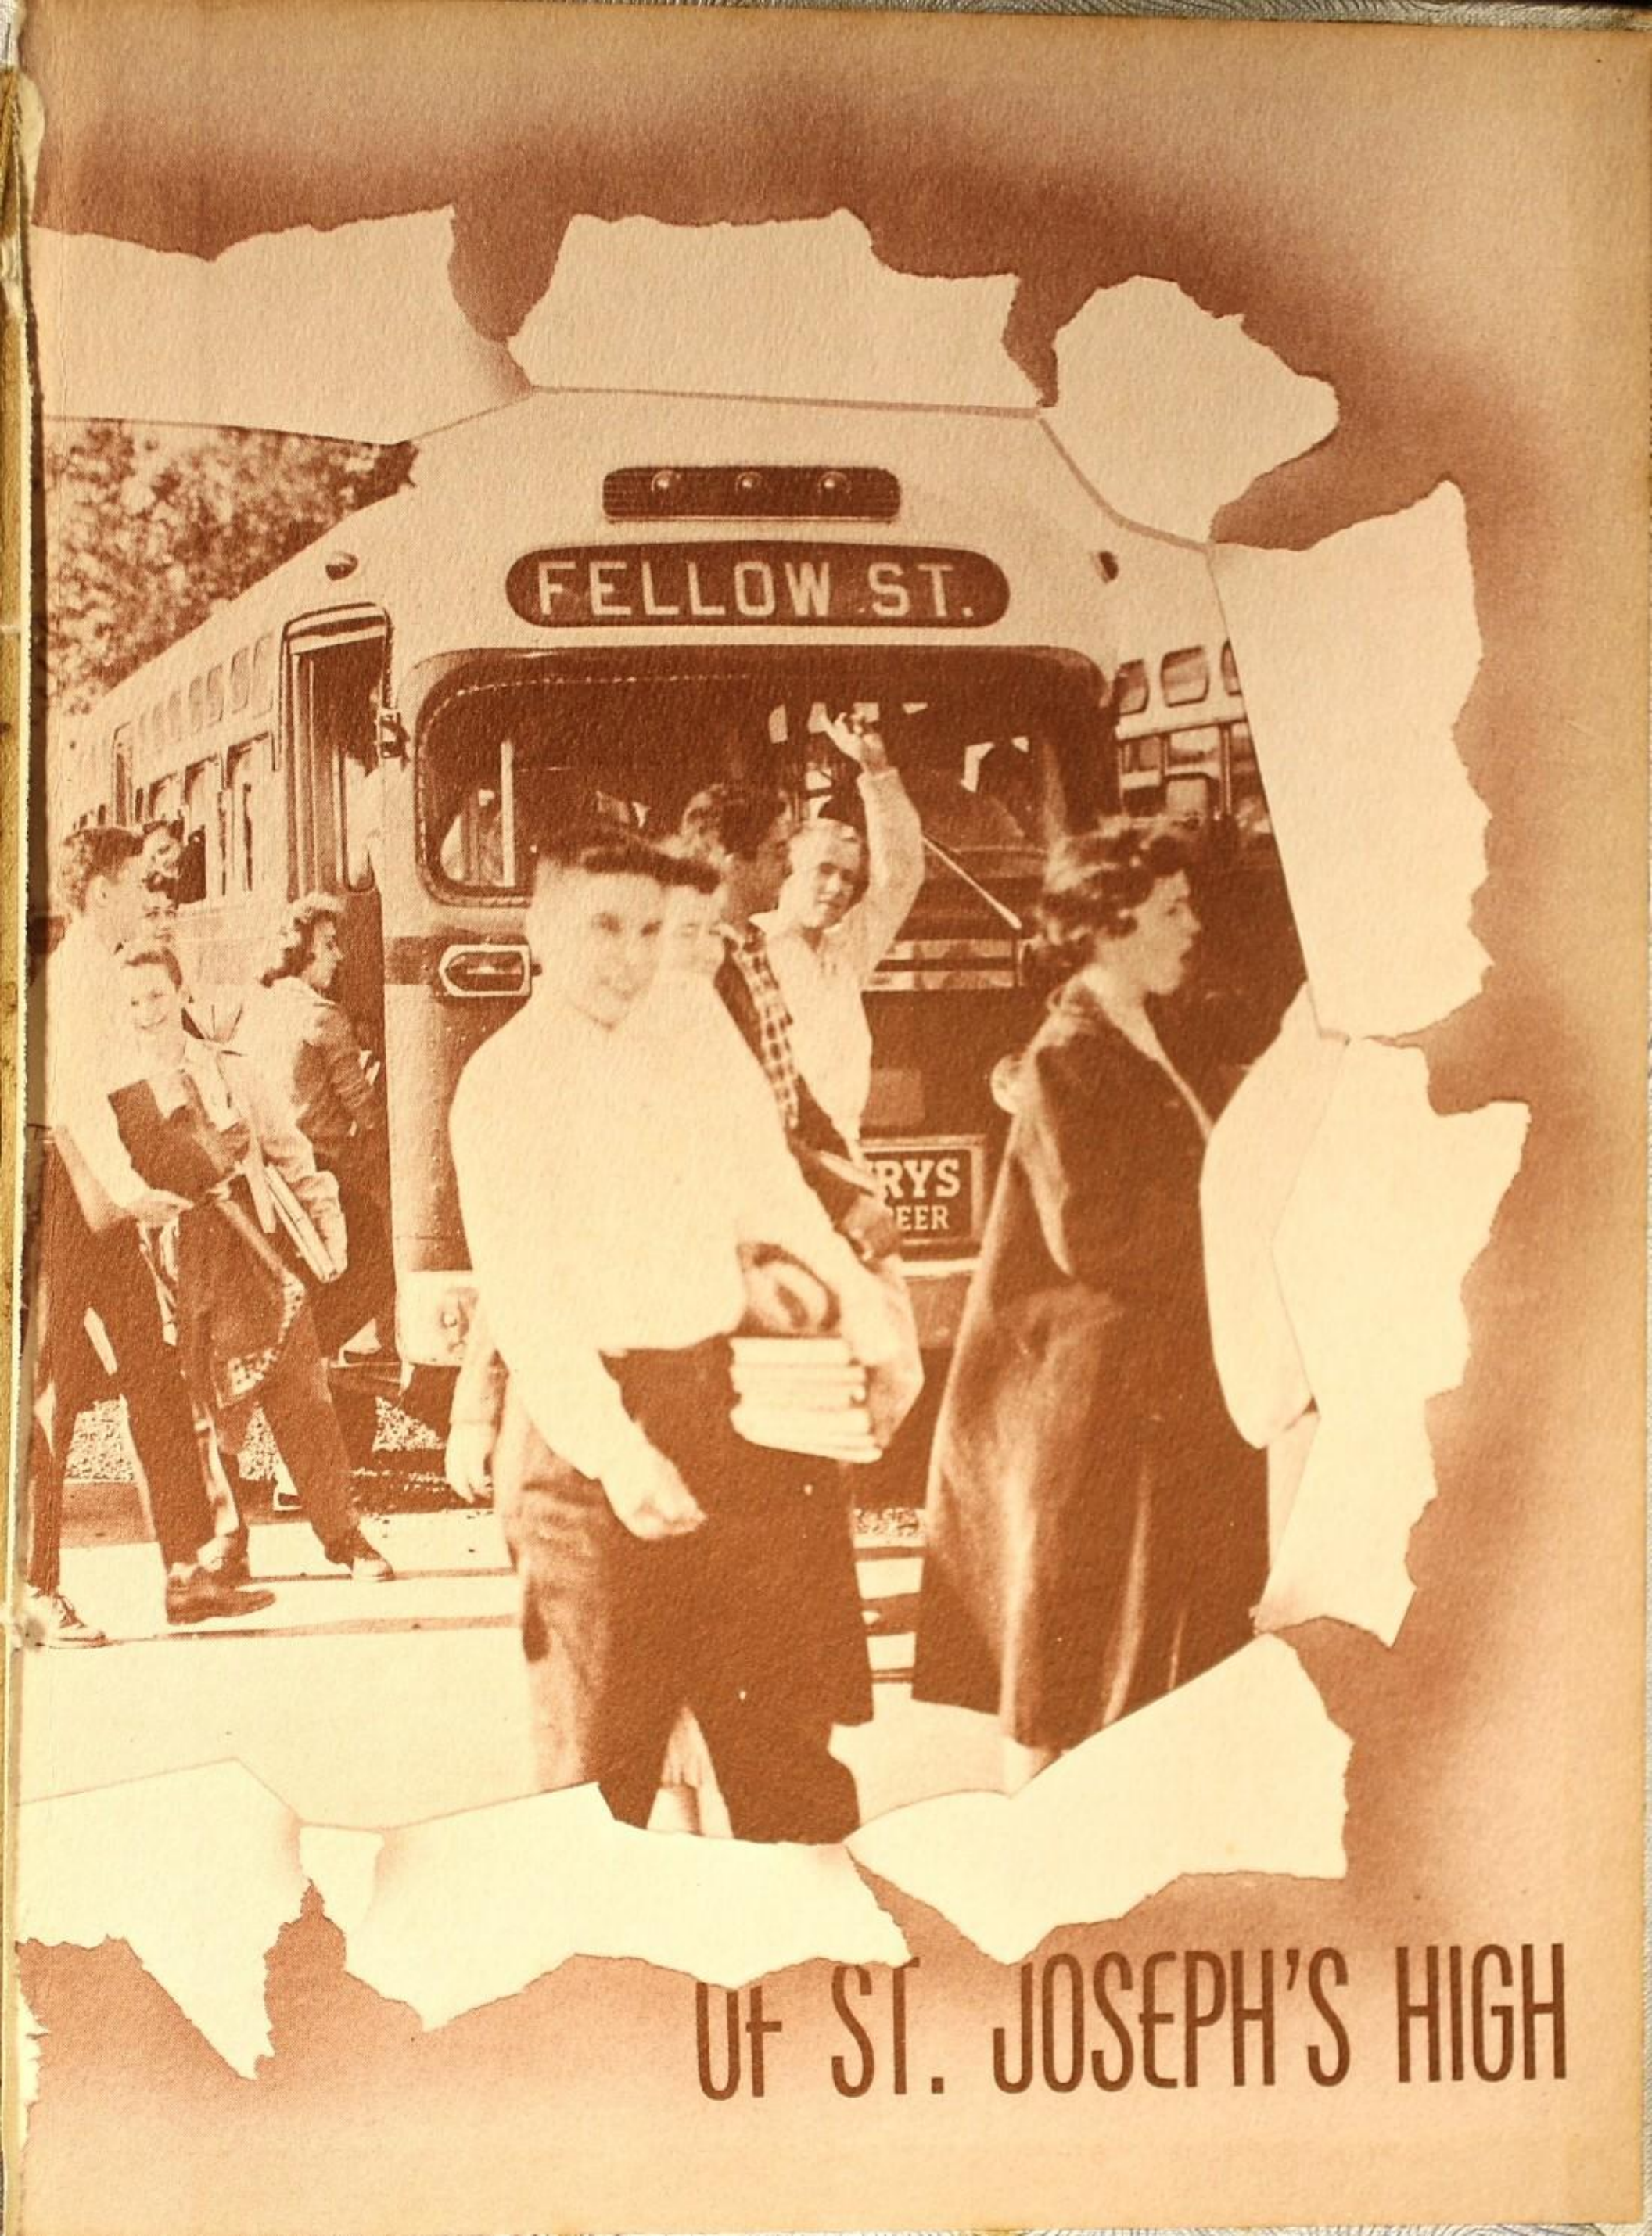

They have all been interested in the success of the Hi-Way, and their cooperation and support has enabled us to successfully attain our goal.
